Rare Blossom Gift At Rotary Club

A beautiful specimen of the Camellia Japonica was presented by M. G. Cox on behalf of the Cameron Rotary Club to its president, J. B. White, at the luncheon on Wednesday. The presentation was made in appreciation of the unselfish service rendered the club during the past year by its president, Mr. Cox said.

The flower, one of the first blooms to appear in the selection of plants grown by Mr. Cox as a part of his hobby, was perfect in coloring and shape.

The Camellia Japonica, a flower that grows wild in China, was discovered perhaps a century ago by a Monk named Camellia. For many decades it was cultivated and highly prized by flower lovers of the south.

They grow especially beautiful in Charleston, South Carolina, Jacksonville, Florida, Mobile, Alabama; New Orleans, Louisiana and other southern cities.

There are hundreds of different varieties of the Camellia which is considered even more beautiful than rare orchids. Trees of any size are very expensive and have been known to sell for as high as five hundred dollars while others sell for three hundred dollars each.

Camellias require an acid soil plenty of shade and considerable moisture.

Recalling their beauty as they appeared in massive bloom in Mobile, Alabama, in 1892, Mr. Cox. decided ten years ago to attempt to grow them in Cameron.

At first forty or fifty dollars worth of plants were bought and transplanted in the yard at the Cox home. These all died. Mr. Cox then brought some plants home from Charleston, South Carolina. These have been blooming for the past several years. The last purchase was made from a nursery in Florida for five dollars and is the most beautiful flower of the group. Mr. Cox said the beauty of this rare specimen was indescribable.

These flowers bloom in December, January and February and will bloom even when the ground is covered with snow. They are hardy plants of an evergreen variety and thrive well when cared for.

The team features Monica Ryan, said to be the tallest girl in the world, who will be seen in action here on the local court for the first time Tuesday night.

WATER SHORTAGE THREATENS TEXAS

Texas water supplies both surface and wells, are gradually diminishing and if nothing is done to conserve moisture in this state within the next twenty-five years the southwest will suffer from a scarcity of water, it was brought out in a round table discussion at the meeting of the Central Texas Water Works and Sewage Assiciation held here at the Cato Coffee Shop on Wednesday, Dec. 20.

E. W. Steel of A & M College made a talk on "What a Water Superintenent Should Know and Why." In addition other members of the association made short talks concerning the water problem.

Guests for the program presented jointly by R. W. Hester of the local Community Public Service Company and Frank H. Reid of the San Antonio Machine & Supply Company, included prominent citizens of Bryan Austin, Fort Worth and Dallas. A number of students of A & M College who are studying water treatment, including a boy from Venezuela were in attendance.

Local guests included Dan Tyson, city secretary, who gave the welcoming address; Dr. W. R. Newton, Judge and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Roy Griffith, city alderman and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hicks.

In addition to the speaking program a sound moving picture showing modern methods of water treatment and purification was presented, this picture having been shown for the first time in the Southwest.

The next regular meeting of the association will be held in Temple on Wednesday, Jan. 17, at which time officers for the new year will be elected.

At the conclusion of the meeting, sandwiches and coffee were served and Mr. Reid presented each man present with a cigar.

On Christmas Eve Mr. and Mrs. William Hefley of Cameron held open house for relatives. Specially honored guests were Miss Frances Hefley of Dallas, Miss Jane Tyson of Austin, Miss Henriem Hefley of the English Department of Southwestern University of Georgetown, Sam Tyson freshman student of Southwestern University; and Captain and Mrs. William T. Hefley and small son of Washington D. C. About thirty guests enjoyed the hospitality, the hosts being assisted by Misses Katherine Hefley and Marjorie Cass of El Paso.

St. Monica's Church Gets New Sound and Address System

A modern sound and public address system has been installed in St. Monica's church, one of a number of innovations since Rev. Geo. J. Duda became its pastor.

At the time of building of this beautiful edifice several years ago more thought was given to the inside appearance of the church than to the acoustical effect.

The auditorium is very large with an exteremely high ceiling. It was found that the congregation from about the center of the church to the rear had difficulty in hearing the Masses. This difficulty was overcome by a portable microphone used at the pulpit and at the altar, with 12 six inch speakers mounted on the eight pillars in the church.

The installation was made by the Parma Radio Service and Mr. Parma has received many compliments on the installation. The new public address and sound system was used for the first time in the midnight mass Sunday night. Rev. Duda delivered a beautiful sermon and the church was packed to the standing room on the outside of the doors.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 31.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him and he he with me. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne" (Revelation 3:20, 21.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Material sense does not unfold the facts of existence; but spiritual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal Truth" (page 95.)

RUSSIA BEATEN ON EVERY FRONT AS FINNS PRESS WAR

While Christmas had brought a lull in fighting on the Western Front in Europe war continued in Finland as Russian Legions sought without success to attain objectives in their drive into Finnish territory.

In a fierce battle raging on two fronts Friday the Finns inflicted such severe losses on the Russians that the government in Moscow was forced by facts to admit the war is not going as scheduled.

In the present battle more than 25,000 Russian troops have been slain and a large number of tanks captured or destroyed.

The government in Finland announced at 7:45 Saturday that the total casualties to date for the Russian forces would exceed 100,000 with perhaps half that number slain in battle.

There was growing belief that Nazi Germany would soon break with Moscow and might actively oppose any extension of Russian influence into the Balkan countries.

With Hitler in his mountain home for the Christmas holidays and the spirit of Christmas prevaling in armed camps in the greatest war in history, there was every indication that at least for a few days bloodshed would be at a minimum.

Great Britain and France are giving active aid to Finland. It was believed certain that both countries would soon be actively engaged in war against Russia.

Bruce Laird Gets Award; Is Most Unselfish Student

Bruce Laird, president of the senior class at Yoe High School, became the first student to receive an award after he had been selected by vote of the student body as the most unselfish member of the high school.

The gift was made by a Cameron businessman whose name is being withheld. The gift is regarded as likewise unselfish and has created citywide favorable comment.

E. A. Ferrin, superintenedent of the school, in discussing the award said:

"At the first of the year a certain man of Cameron phoned me and told me he wanted to give a watch to the most unselfish pupil of Yoe High School.

"Wednesday he phoned me and asked if we had made the selection and I told him that we had not, but that we would have the pupils vote and from the leading ones of the pupils' vote, the faculty would make its choice, and select the one who was to receive the award.

"Fortunately pupils in their vote had three outstanding individuals. It was also the belief of the faculty that the lead in the pupils' vote was their choice for the most unselfish.

"Consequently Bruce Laird, president of the senior class of this year, was at the general assembley on Thursday morning presented with a seventeen jewel Bulova whist watch J. C. Martin, president of the School Board, at the request of school authorities, made the presentation."

Bruce Laird Thanks Donner of Watch And Student Body

Bruce Laird, president of the senior class at Yoe High School who received a handsome wrist watch because he was voted the most unselfish student among the more than five hundred to attend, today issued the following thanks for the recognition:

"I am deeply grateful for this award. It came so unexpectedly and of course, that is one reason why I value it so highly. It is a splendid thing to realize your fellow students feel that way about you.

"I do not know who gave the watch, but I think it is within itself one of the very best and most unselfish gestures that any man can make, because it is given without publicity, and in the future it will have a very good effect on the student body.

"I feel deeply indebted to the donnor of this watch and to my fellow students, and I sincerely hope that I may be able to so conduct myself as to merit the esteem and confidence which this gift implies."

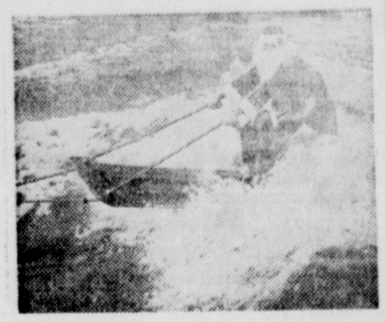
Santa Claus Gets Around

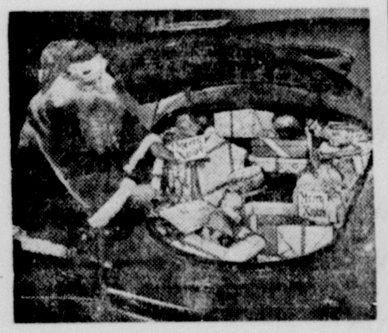
Busy Kris Kringle doesn't fight modern inventions—he uses them!



Down Florida way where the chambers of commerce require that everything be different, Santa goes to work on an aquaplane.

Donner and Blitzen can't fly through the air like a plane, so old St. Nick tries a new wrinkle.

Here he pops up in a railroad engine—



Then, again, he abandons his toy bag and travels in an automobile—

But in the end he goes back to reindeers. Can't get along without 'em!

3 Christmas Islands, Harbor, Cove, Sound, Are Found in Atlas

Not one, but three Christmas islands will celebrate the Yuletide this year, all of them under the British flag. The first is located in mid-Pacific and is really a submerged mountain 15,000 feet high with only its top above water. The second, in the Indian ocean, is forest-covered and had a population of 40 when the last census was taken in 1898. The last Christmas islands is near Cape Breton in the maritime provinces of Canada.

France has a Christmas harbor on Desolation or Kerguelen island about 2,000 miles southwest of Australia. The United States has a Christmas cove near Boothbay harbor, Maine, which is a summer resort.

There is also a Christmas sound near the southern tip of South America about 120 miles northwest of Cape Horn and located in an island belonging to Chile.

1939 Toys Sprout Wheels As Kids Imitate Parents

Today's civilization-on-wheels has revolutionized the Twentieth century toy industry. Several decades ago children played with paint sets and cut-out dolls. Now girls and boys want wheel goods. The desire to have an automobile like dad's is so great that toy auto manufacturers must change their designs as soon as new models appear. Velocipedes must be streamlined, scooters must have pneumatic tires, and doll carriages must be of the latest baby buggy designs.
